brand creation guidelines

The background of the slide is a close-up, high-contrast image of a leaf's venation. The veins are a light teal color, creating a complex, branching network against a darker teal background. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture and structure of the leaf's surface.

The purpose of these brand guidelines is to drive consistency and clarity when implementing the visual language, and understanding how to apply the brand in the most effective manner possible.

These brand guidelines set the visual standards for the Innovation Oasis brand and outlines the usage conventions for our logo, colour palette, and typography; setting out clear rules on the deployment of these components in all our brand collateral.

By following the principles outlined in these guidelines, we can maintain cohesion and consistency across all our communications ensuring that we present Innovation Oasis as a creative, modern, and forward-thinking company.

The brand core elements

The following pages show the components that form the spine of the brand - the logo and how to use it, the brand colours and our typographic style.

The logo

This is the logo for Innovation Oasis. It has been handcrafted to create a unique visual identity.

The identity has strength and gravitas and sense of analytical scientific endeavour. It conveys a steely, sense of precision and accuracy along with a spirit of curiosity and cogent discovery.

The brandmark is at the heart of, and crucial, to our identity and should be used in accordance with the rules within this document. It should not be reproduced in any other form than the ones shown in these guidelines.

The brandmark

Our brandmark is a modern and adaptive wordmark that allows our brand to speak to the widest audience possible.

The flexibility of the brandmark elements allows for greater adaptability across multiple applications.

Primary Logo Lock-Up

The Innovation Oasis brandmark is comprised of 3 elements.

The Innovation Oasis brandmark

This is the primary logo element of the brand and should be the hero visual component in any branded material.

The Innovation Oasis wordmark

A bespoke wordmark that has been created to include the letters 'IO' that forms a key part of the overarching brand identity.

The Silal endorsement line

The line 'Part of Silal' indicates the company's ownership. This must be visible on all Innovation Oasis communications.

The flexible brandmark elements

Brandmark components

The three brandmark components can be used as a fixed lock-up or more flexibly where each part is used as a more dynamic element within a layout.

The primary fixed logo lock-up is shown here. Examples of the flexible use of the brand components are shown in the Brand In Action section of these guidelines.

The reversed brandmark

This page shows the reversed version of the primary brandmark. The Innovation Oasis brandmark remains unchanged but the wordmark characters become white with the exception of the letter 'i' and 'o'. The endorsement line also becomes white.

The logo can appear out of any colour background or image as long as there is a clear visual contrast that ensures legibility and clarity.

Single colour brandmark

In some instances it may be useful to use single colour versions of the brandmark. These examples show how they can be used on dark or light backgrounds. Always ensure that the colour chosen allows clear contrast and definition against the background.

Using the tagline

Our tagline is an important indicator of our industry ambition and our attitude to progress and innovation.

The tagline can be used as a stand-alone piece of artwork or used locked-up with the brandmark as shown.

The size and position of the tagline can vary depending on the application. Always ensure that it is clearly presented and reproduced at a legible size.

The brandmark - formats

So the brand can be used to maximum effect there are different formatted logo options to use. This means that depending on the dimensions and scale of any application there will be a suitably formatted logo to apply.

Format one - large IO logo.
Best for vertical formats

Format two - medium IO logo, small endorsement line.
Best for larger vertical formats

Format three - small IO logo, for smaller size usage.
Best for horizontal formats

Clear Space and minimum size

To protect the integrity of the Innovation Oasis logo, it should never be produced below a minimum size of 30mm in width for the horizontal version; and 20mm in width for the vertical versions of the brandmark. Always ensure that the endorsement line is legible.

Always allow a minimum clear space - equal to the dot of the 'i' from the Innovation Oasis brandmark - as shown.

Core colours

The core colours form the backbone of the brand. These colours have been selected to be cool, clinical and formal. They convey a sense of precision and understated confidence. The core blue colour gives a sense of calm and serenity and is supported by a range of gray tones which add depth. The gray colours convey a sense of neutrality and solidity.

Secondary colours

The cool core colours are supported by a range of brighter tones that help add life and dynamism to brand applications. These colours should be used as accent tones and not dominate the core colours. The green colours have been selected for their obvious association with the idea of growth but also how they visually sit with the core hues. The brighter oranges and pink help add vibrant splashes of colour. The range of supporting colours makes them a useful tool in differentiating complex charts and graphs as well as being to colour code documents. This palette can be added to as the brand evolves and this should be seen as a useful starting point for developing brand applications.
